YEAR OF FAITH 2012
2013

The Gospel of Luke today gives us an account of a banquet with Jesus. Surely the people present were all good people, striving to do good. Yet for many of them, it was impossible to see the good in the woman who could only cast herself at the feet of the Lord with a very womanly love and show her love for him with ointments and tears. Jesus accepts her love and her repentance.

Living with God will demand our whole being, heart, mind, soul, body and spirit. There are times when we may sense that we are fully integrated in seeking God. There may be other times when we know that we are only broken human beings and not fully given to God. Living our faith is a process. It is a journey with Christ and in that journey we come to know Him and to love Him more and more, even when we recognize our sinfulness and failures.

Jesus is always present for us. It is we who are not always present for Him. He always loves us even when we forget about Him. He always pardons us even though we continue to sin even after repentance. He invites to His banquet no matter how many times we have refused His invitation. He never tires of seeking us. Let us thank the Lord for His love. May we turn to Him today, even in the smallest way, and ask Him to transform us in His love. Let us love our Lord Jesus with all our being.
