

THE CHURCHES IN HOLYWELL

EASTER SATURDAY

19th APRIL 2014

The background of the poster features a faded, light-colored image of the ruins of Basingwerk Abbey. The most prominent feature is a large, multi-story stone archway, known as the West Tower, which stands as a remnant of the abbey's original structure. The stone is weathered and greyish-brown. In the distance, other parts of the ruins and some green trees are visible under a pale sky. The overall tone is historical and serene.
